QIC-LGBTQ2S Evaluation Types

OUTCOME EVALUATION

Measures a program's results and helps determine whether an intervention produces the changes it intended to achieve.

PRACTICE EVALUATION

Tracks practice indicators related to quality of service. This includes elements like reach, satisfaction, fidelity, and dose.

Examines the implementation for developing and sustaining an intervention. It is the story of what you did and how you did it that will make it possible for others to replicate your work.

FORMATIVE EVALUATION

Assesses whether the intervention is associated with expected program outputs and short-term outcomes. Results of formative evaluations help determine whether a program needs to be revised.

SUMMATIVE EVALUATION

Assesses the short— and long-term outcomes of the intervention. The program and assessment tools cannot be changed at this point.
